

PENDULUM TRAINING and WEBINARS

P E N D U L U M

Does your organization need help with training? Would an on-demand webinar on a high-risk area be beneficial?

Pendulum risk management consultants are well prepared to help with training and webinars within an organization. Our broad range of specialties allows us to match a consultant to a wide variety of aging services settings.

Training

Pendulum consultants work together with leadership to put together a customized training program specifically for the organization.

Topics can be as detailed as a documentation training based on an organization's own documents or can cover those high-risk areas almost every organization faces—falls, abuse, skin integrity, and elopement.

Webinars

Virtual based webinars can be created on a risk-related topic of choice. These webinars can be presented live followed by a question and answer session for the group to participate. Webinars can also be recorded for those team members unable to attend to view at their own convenience.

Call or email Pendulum today to talk about how our training and webinar services can help your organization.
